Seed Library Last year the Library received donations of flower seeds from area individuals, and we will be packaging these to start our seed library. A growing trend in libraries and communities throughout the country, seed libraries encourage seed saving, preserving heirloom seeds, and gardening. We are still working out the details of our fledgling Seed Library. We will have handouts and seeds available at the April 10 program, presented by the Ottawa/Sandusky County Master Gardeners, on Growing Plants from Seeds. Please register for this program. We are planning a How to Harvest Seed Program for June and a Seed Swap this fall. We can use volunteers, too. Talk to Jill.

DIRECTOR'S PICK

"The Accident" by Chris Pavone

When Isabel Reed receives an anonymous exposé of a multibillionaire media mogul, she realizes that it is a literary agent's dream and nightmare. On one hand, if published, it would be a guaranteed mega-bestseller; but it might also get her sued or even killed. It turns out that those darkest fears are not unfounded. One of her associates is executed and she herself becomes the target of a very persistent rogue CIA assassin. Book industry veteran and author Chris Pavone (The Expats) presents an intense, unfolding thriller about a publishing process not in any handbook.

"[Pavone is] a reliable new must-read in the world of thrillers. . . . He just keeps the shocks coming. . . . Pavone lards this book with keen, bittersweet observations about the publishing world, details that become a big, poignant part of its appeal. . . . You will want to finish The Accident at a nice, rapid clip to see how [the] pieces come together. . . . Unputdownable."
—The New York Times

"Pavone's plot twists tirelessly, shifting focus among a large cast of well-drawn characters. . . . many readers will read this one through the night."
—Booklist (starred review)

"[A] high-wire thriller. . . . The suspense is palpable."
—Publishers Weekly (starred review)

Staff Favorite from Michele Wood

Loaded Spud Potato Soup

3 cups mashed potatoes, or one package frozen (I use Schwan's frozen creamy mashed potato rounds)

1 can chicken or vegetable broth

½ container chive and green onion cream cheese

Mix all ingredients in large pan. Bring to almost a boil, turn down heat to simmer. Simmer for 15 minutes, stirring very occasionally.

When finished cooking, add shredded cheddar cheese (1 cup more or less). When serving, sprinkle bacon bits and chopped scallions on top.

I use this in the crock pot, and keep on low.
